Your rights

When it comes to your health information, you have certain rights.

This section explains your rights and some of our responsibilities to help you.

You have the right to:

Get a copy of your health and claims records.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You can ask to see or get a copy of your health and claims records and other health information we have about you. Ask us how to do this. We will provide a copy or a summary of your health and claims records, usually within 30 days of your request. We may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee.
Ask us to correct health and claims records.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You can ask us to correct your health and claims records if you think they are incorrect or incomplete. Ask us how to do this. We may say “no” to your request, but we’ll tell you why in writing within 60 days.
Request confidential communications. Ask us to limit the information we share.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You can ask us to contact you in a specific way (for example, home or office phone) or to send mail to a different address. We will consider all reasonable requests, and must say “yes” if you tell us you would be in danger if we do not.
Ask us to limit the information we share.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You can ask us not to use or share certain health information for treatment, payment or our operations. We are not required to agree to your request, and we may say “no” if it would affect your care.
Get a list of those with whom we’ve shared your information.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You can ask for a list (called an “accounting”) of the times we’ve shared your health information for 6 years prior to the date you ask, who we shared it with and why. We will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment and health care operations, and certain other disclosures (such as any you asked us to make). We’ll provide one accounting a year for free but will charge a reasonable, cost-based fee if you ask for another one within 12 months.
Get a copy of this privacy notice.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You can ask for a paper copy of this notice at any time, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically. We will provide you with a paper copy promptly.
Choose someone to act for you.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> If you have given someone medical power of attorney, or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can act for you and your rights and make choices about your health information. We will make sure the person has this authority and can act for you before we take any action.
File a complaint if you believe your privacy rights have been violated.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You can complain if you feel we have violated your rights by contacting us at 1-855-332-2440. You can file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office for Civil Rights by sending a letter to 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201, calling 1-877-696-6775, or visiting www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/complaints/. We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint.

Your choices

For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share.

If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us. Tell us what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions.

You have some choices in the way that we use and share information as we:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Answer coverage questions from your family and friends.• Provide disaster relief.• Communicate through mobile and digital technologies.• Market our services and sell your information.
In these cases, you have both the right and choice to tell us to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Share information with your family, close friends or others involved in payment for your care.• Share information in a disaster relief situation.• Share information with you through mobile and digital technologies (such as sending information to your email address or to your cell phone by text message or through a mobile app).• If you are not able to tell us your preference, for example if you are unconscious, we may go ahead and share your information with others (such as to your family or to a disaster relief organization) if we believe it is in your best interest. We may also share your information when needed to lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety. However, we will not use mobile and digital technologies to send you health information unless you agree to let us do so.• The use of mobile and digital technologies (such as text message, email or mobile app) has a number of risks that you should consider. Text messages and emails may be read by a third party if your mobile or digital device is stolen, hacked or unsecured. Message and data rates may apply.
In these cases we never share your information unless you give us written permission:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Marketing purposes.• Sale of your information.

Our uses and disclosures

How do we typically use or share your health information?

We typically use or share your health information in the following ways.

We may use and share your information as we:

Help manage the health care treatment you receive.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> We can use your health information and share it with professionals who are treating you. 	Example: A doctor sends us information about your diagnosis and treatment plan so we can arrange additional services.
